CHARDONNAY

Ataraxia R595

HEMEL-EN-AARDE RIDGE

In the most accurate and faithful way possible, our wooded white wine mirrors the terroir in which our Chardonnay vines are grown. In other words, it is an expression of the low vigour, stony, clay-rich Bokkeveld Shale derived soils and the heavily maritime-influenced climate.

Weltevrede Calcrete R285

ROBERTSON

Calcrete defines the Robertson region with its crystalline minerality, a taste of wet stone and almost maritime sea spray, saline palate and oyster shell minerality. Wine shows revitalising, cool sensation on the palate, a mouth-watering tension, steeliness, the taste of gunflint, and lime.

Ataraxia Serenity R430 HEMEL-EN-AARDE RIDGE

This wine has the confidence to "whisper" style rather than "shout" brashness through the winemaking excesses of fruit ripeness, extraction in the cellar or an overtly strident use of new oak barrels.

Fresh acidity provides lift, while balanced oak nuances add structure without overshadowing the wine's purity. Graphite and spice dominate the flavour profile, joined by bouquet garni and roasted coffee bean. The finish is elegant and fresh, with lingering dark berry fruit and a long, dry close.
